Eat

Make a speedy beeline for Mooncusser, where the menu is loaded up with Atlantic seafood classics and local game-changers (like the bluefish terrine), and don't overlook the Legal Sea Foods branch at Park Plaza. Rebel's Guild is the historically themed eatery at the Revere Hotel.

Shop

If the sidewalk is your catwalk and you're in the mood to splash big-time, Bottega Veneta at the corner of Arlington and Boylston is the perfect option. Every imaginable skate option—ice for winter, board and inline for summer—can be found at Beacon Hill Skate Shop.

Drink

Winter would not be the same without quality time spent in an Irish bar and MJ O'Connor's at the Park Plaza Hotel offers all the expected wood-paneled coziness. The Bristol at the Four Seasons is suitably upscale, with table views of the Public Garden, an asset shared by Bistro du Midi.

Play

When the blizzards strike head indoors to Exhale spa, where you can find barre, yoga, manicures and more. City Brew Tours offers a superior, insider's look at Boston's world-beating craft beer scene while the Leica Store at Park Plaza has an excellent gallery.
