With summer fast approaching and the itch to get away for a few days growing stronger, there is no better time to treat your family to a staycation. This summer, hotels in the Boston-area are pulling out all the stops to provide quality family fun. Whether you're looking to escape the city for a quiet evening or embrace Boston's downtown happenings, these hotels invite you and your family to kick back and enjoy the well-deserved warm weather to its fullest.

Revere Hotel Boston Common is giving families the perfect excuse to play all summer long in the city with their Explore Boston this Summer Package, available for visits from July 1 through September 3, 2018. Located in the heart of Boston's Back Bay, the newly-renovated hotel is inspired by the innovative spirit of Paul Revere and is a modern interpretation of his midnight ride through the streets of Boston. Upon check-in at the lobby, little ones will receive their choice of a stuffed animal as well as a copy of the infamously-Bostonian Make Way for Ducklings picture book. Spend the day discovering the city's most cherished historical sites with a complimentary map of The Freedom Trail before returning for dinner at Revere Hotel Boston Common's recently opened restaurant, Rebel's Guild. This American-centric eatery offers a playful conspiracy of witty pub fare and rebellious spirits in a modern space that is uniquely Bostonian. The Explore Boston this Summer Package also includes a delivery of milk and cookies to your room for the perfect evening snack. Wake up bright and early the next morning and enjoy access to the hotel's sixth floor indoor pool and Rooftop@Revere that will have you cherishing the warm weather during the entire visit. Spend the day under the sea or discover new adventures with your choice of tickets for two adults and two children to either the New England Aquarium or the Boston Children's Museum, both a short walk from the hotel. Before heading home, enjoy a complimentary full American breakfast for two adults and two children at Rows Wharf Sea Grille.

If you're looking to spend alone time with your significant other, Boston Harbor Hotel's Gourmet Getaway Package is the perfect solution.
